FIVE REASONS FOR TRAINING

A friend recently shared a list of reasons people request training. In each case, the recipient wants to apply the new information. What area of improvement could benefit from our practical, business focused training topics? 1) Need new knowledge 2) Limited skills but need retrained 3) Changes to what was learned previously 4) Wholesale change in topic has occurred 5) Train the trainer.

INNOVATION IN BUSINESS – NOVEMBER 29 PRESENTATION

A recent Bain Consulting survey indicated that 80% of executives believe Innovation is more important than cost savings. A McGladrey report shows 56% believe new products or product lines are important or extremely important for revenue growth. But how many know how to do it? How many have a comprehensive way to think about Innovation as it pertains to their specific company. On November 29, 2012, Perry will speak on Innovation for the Central Minnesota Manufacturers Association at their monthly breakfast meeting in Princeton. Perry will provide insights into how he helps companies create Innovative breakthroughs in a wide range of company functions.

ON TWITTER – PERRY'S SOLUTIONS

We recently began a Twitter site to share tidbits with followers such as quotes from our reading, the values that we have, and observations from our work or our day. It will show events we will be attending and feel are valuable for others. If you have topics you would like me to share, let me know. This expands on our Youtube channel as a method to communicate ideas to people like you. Follow us at "Perrys Solutions" and we can interact more!

Have a great day!
