Quarterly Newsletter

August 2020

Welcome to our quarterly newsletter. Since 2009 we have prided ourselves on providing you with clear and concise information that can be implemented in your daily operations. If you receive value from this, please share with a colleague. Call us to learn more.

DEVELOPING RAW TECHNOLOGY – MDDI INTERVIEW

Raw technology program/ project management best practices are different than they are for product development. It is a common belief to separate new technology from the product schedule. But how should we execute on this path? MDDI magazine interviewed us about these differences. <https://bit.ly/3bICyAS> There is limited information regarding techniques to improve the chances for success. Thus, we will be leading a panel at MDM Minneapolis to explore this topic further. Having us advance your knowledge and practice in this area will quickly create innovative products and a competitive advantage.

BIAS FROM OPTIMISTIC EMOTIONS – NEW SERIES

In this newsletter, we are starting a new series about human bias. These biases tend to be natural, unintended yet often irrational thoughts. Planning and executing a project has a bias of optimism that everything will work out fine. This can reduce the opportunity for successful and timely completion before you even begin. There is also a bias regarding the first idea in a meeting directing future conversations. <https://bit.ly/2QDY54C> Call us to help you achieve predictable outcomes and reduce the impact of unintended biases.

ONLINE LEARNING TIPS AND TECHNIQUES

Professionals need to keep skills current. In-person classes are ideal for in-depth learning but what can be achieved using online technologies? How can we make remote training more effective? After years of experience in college and corporate training situations <https://bit.ly/2WxeCff>, we can help you make it happen for your immediate impact.

Have a great day!
