Call us to improve your processes and to train your workforce to execute for value.

NEW TECHNOLOGY INTRODUCTION – UPCOMING AT MDM

In November, we will be speaking about developing new technology (versus new products) at the MDM show in Minneapolis. This will be conducted on the Expo floor so everyone can access it! We will discuss dealing with the huge uncertainty involved, and how to have lower risk and more predictability of our overall projects. There are techniques and a mindset to help achieve our goals. Stop by to listen and to say hi after.

STARTING A NEW BUSINESS – FUTURE BOOK IDEA

When I started my business in 2006, I formed a “breakfast group” as a board of advisors. Our monthly meetings were documented, including agendas and actual discussion. The learning points experienced while building the business were captured. The result is a business lasting over 16 years. The book could organize these learning topics and show the progression and timing of addressing each one. Some were addressed early, but then were dealt with again as the company matured. After 7 years of the group’s existence, there is much content for a valuable book. Would this interest you or your company?

Have a great day!
